CHRONOLOGY OF THE MAIN ECONOMIC MEASURES
ADOPTED DURING OCTOBER, NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER 1985			46

GENERAL OUTLOOK

According to preliminary estimates, in 1985 Chile's G.D.P. grew by approximately 2%, over the 6.3% growth rate estimated for 1984. Thus economic activity increased despite depressed export prices and when a severe adjustment in import levels was taking place.

During 1985 there was an important reduction in the fiscal deficit down to nearly 3% of GDP, from 4% in 1984. As a counterpart, the balance of payments current account deficit was reduced from US$ 2,060.0 million in 1984 to US$ 1,314.9 million in 1985. Similarly, the balance of trade surplus showed a remarkable improvement, in spite of the new fall in terms of trade which, according to ECLA'S preliminary estimates, was 4%. Thers, the trade surplus was US$ 712.3 million, contrasting with the 1984 surplus of US$ 292 million.

It is necessary to stress that the improvement in the trade balance is basically explained by the reduction in imports, inasmuch as the growth in the volume of non-copper exports was offset by a drop in their prices. According to provisional estimates, the FOB value of exports amounted to US$ 3,646.5 million in 1985, compared to US$ 3,650.3 million in 1984. On the other hand, CIF imports reached US$ 3,246.0 million in 1985, down 13.2% from the previous year's level.

In 1985, the inflation rate, as measured by the Consumer Price Index, was 26.4%, an increase over the 23% inflation of 1984. Nevertheless, it is necessary to point out that the higher rate of 1985 is explained mainly by the increase in prices that took place during the first semester in response to the substantial devaluation of the peso (of 40%, December to December) and to the rise in import tariffs, of October, 1984. Thus, the average rate of inflation expressed in annual terms, which was 36.8% during the first semester, fell to 16.8% during the second half of the year.

Finally, it is necessary to point out that during the fourth quarter the country met the targets agreed upon with the International Monetary Fund in the Extended Fund Facility program.
